

595 Price Avenue ~ Redwood City ~ (650) 322-5910

Parent Education Workshops ~ Professional Development for Teachers

Morrissey-Compton clinicians address topics in parenting, education, and mental health. Our interactive, engaging workshops are based on current research. We bring workshops to parents, teachers and others who care about children. To arrange for a presentation at your school or agency, contact Sue Garber, M.A., Director of Parent Education and Social Skills Groups; sue.garber@morrcomp.org.

Request a Specific Topic or Choose from Some of our Most Requested Presentations:

- ◆ How to Motivate Struggling Learners
- ◆ Homework 911! Helping Your Child with Homework and Organizational Skills
- ◆ “I Can’t” and “I Don’t Know”- Mathematical Learning Difficulties
- ◆ Using Technology to Support Success in Reading and Writing
- ◆ What is a Learning Disability? How Can I Explain a Learning Disability to My Child?
- ◆ Helping Children Establish and Maintain Healthy Friendships
- ◆ Connect to Correct: The Importance of Emotional Connection in Parenting
- ◆ Enhancing Creativity Through Mindfulness: Using Multi-sensory Experiences to Teach Children
- ◆ Attention: How it Impacts Your Child’s Learning and Ways to Help Your Child Improve
- ◆ Increasing Emotional Intelligence in Your Home
- ◆ Parenting Anxious Children
- ◆ ADHD and Executive Functions
- ◆ Advocating for Your ADHD Child at School
- ◆ Does My Child Need a Psycho-educational Evaluation?
- ◆ How do I Get My Child’s Needs Met at School?
- ◆ Behavior Plans for Children with ADHD
- ◆ Typical Teenage Moodiness or Is My Adolescent Depressed?
- ◆ IEP Training for Parents New to Special Education
- ◆ A College for Every Student: Beyond Disabled Student Services
- ◆ The Impact of Executive Function Weakness on Social-Emotional Development
- ◆ Classroom Accommodations and IEP Goals for Executive Function Difficulties
- ◆ Parenting an Emotionally Sensitive Child
- ◆ Understanding Dysgraphia: Supporting Students who Struggle to Express Themselves in Writing
- ◆ Introduction to Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) with Children and Adolescents